WDAA WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP SHOW

The WDAA World Championship Show is a five day horse show where exhibitors from across North America travel to Guthrie OK for the chance to win a World Championship title in the rapidly growing discipline of Western Dressage. The show is held each year at the acclaimed Lazy E Arena, the World's premier western entertainment facility.

Exhibitors have the opportunity to win beautiful rosette ribbons, custom awards attire, and prestigious belt buckles. The first day of the show includes rail classes in the indoor arena, and the following four days host tests of every level. The WDAA World Show prides itself on being inclusive to different levels of riders, different breeds, and a wide demographic of competitors.
